

RDAMR and Regions SA would like to invite Murraylands and Riverland agribusinesses, food and beverage producers to the

FUNCTIONAL & LUXURY FOODS LEARNING SESSION

This learning session will be an opportunity for those in the food, beverage and agribusiness sector to access the latest thinking, government support and information on the future of the functional and luxury food and beverage industry.

FIND OUT MORE ABOUT

- What the future looks like for Australia's food and beverage industry
- What crop types have high value ingredients
- What is a functional food and where are the opportunities
- Creating functionality or emotive appeal for products to build value
- Is there value in the food waste produced in your industry
- Research and development options to improve your product or reach new markets
- How the Food Innovation Centre can assist
- Gain insight and information from industry experts;
 - Dr Steve Lapidge and Rebecca Bolt from PIRSA;
 - Dr Vince O'Brien from The AWRI;
 - Callena Rawlings from AusIndustry, and;
 - Guest Speakers from Industry case studies.

BOOK NOW

TUESDAY 30TH MAY 2017

10.30AM – 3.00PM

LOXTON RESEARCH CENTRE

Lunch and refreshments provided

Come and learn about future opportunities in the industry and start planning your next steps.

RSVP your attendance and dietary requirements by 26th May to aworsfold@rdamr.com.au

THIS LEARNING SESSION IS SUPPORTED BY

LEARNING SESSION